COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT FINANCE AUTHORITY

The Community Development Finance Authority (CDFA) is a statewide, nonprofit authority focused on maximizing the value and impact of community development, economic development, and clean energy initiatives, throughout New Hampshire. The organization leverages a variety of financial and technical resources, including the competitive deployment of grant, loan, and equity programs.

At CDFA, we envision a future New Hampshire composed of communities that are economically and socially resilient, reflect and respect their natural surroundings, and are places where people want to live, work, and play.

To achieve this vision, CDFA invests in the people of New Hampshire by:

- deploying a well-tuned, effective investment system;
- enabling partners to make transformational and sustainable changes; and
- taking an innovative approach to development finance.

PROGRAM OVERVIEW AND OBJECTIVES

The Community Economic Development Capacity Building Program is a subset of CDFA's Tax Credit Program that focuses on strengthening organizations in New Hampshire committed to community economic development. CDFA's Tax Credit Program was established by New Hampshire RSA 162-L, to: contribute to the development or redevelopment and economic wellbeing of target areas or target populations, improve the economic development of the state, increase or maintain threatened primary employment, or provide affordable housing opportunities to low and moderate income people. The founding legislation also seeks to increase the overall number of community economic development projects and advance the capacity of organizations seeking to support community economic development, throughout New Hampshire.

The program's principal objective is to support communities, cooperatives, and nonprofits in building their capacity to advance community economic development and infrastructure projects that will support the needs of vulnerable community members. CDFA seeks to support its partners and their ability to achieve their mission in their communities by funding strategic initiatives at critical junctures, and backing solutions led or co-created by historically vulnerable community members.

The four priority areas of the Community Economic Development Capacity Building program are:

1. Increase collaboration across organizations and stakeholders;
2. Increase organizations' and communities' ability to engage in physical infrastructure or other community economic development projects;
3. Resource projects led by and/or directly benefiting vulnerable populations, including organizations with high financial need; or
4. Resource projects in places with a high percentage of vulnerable people, or which are low-wealth, rural or distressed urban communities.

DEFINITIONS

The following are definitions of key program terms and should be used to further clarify the program priorities:

Collaboration: Two or more entities or organizations working together to complete a community economic development project. Collaborative applications can provide the potential of encouraging the development of effective and collaborative organizations.

Infrastructure: Investments in infrastructure are those that provide resources to support the advancement of a traditional or nontraditional project or initiative that addresses community economic development challenges or opportunities. Traditional infrastructure investments include building, renovating, and improving physical systems or spaces. Nontraditional infrastructure investments include creating new models, programs, or partnerships that improve internal or external practices or systems.

Vulnerable / Target populations: CDFA has continued its commitment to meeting the needs of our communities' most vulnerable members and supporting their efforts to meaningfully engage in community economic development initiatives.

Based on the findings of the Analysis of Impediments to Fair Housing Choice in New Hampshire report, CDFA is redoubling our efforts to resource projects that are led by and support historically vulnerable community members, who are described in the report as: Black, Indigenous, and People of Color (BIPOC); immigrants; LGBTQ; disabled; women and gender non-conforming; rural; youth; and unhoused residents. Given CDFA's reach and our ability to provide capacity building support to solutions that benefit all Granite Staters, we refer to these historically vulnerable community members as the "target populations", we also allow applicants to define other target populations with supporting data in their application.

Target areas:

Places with a high percentage of vulnerable people, which are low-wealth, rural, or distressed urban communities.

CDFA created a set of 13 Community Progress Indicators that help illustrate socioeconomic issues across the state. CDFA engaged with Policy Map (www.policymap.com) to create a publically-accessible map-based visualization platform to display the Community Progress Indicators for each city and town in New Hampshire (platform to be launched in the first quarter of State Fiscal Year 2022). This powerful tool enables community economic development stakeholders to better understand the issues and trends affecting their local community and region. The applicant is expected to define their target area in their application for funding with supporting data.

TAX CREDITS

Grants awarded under this program are provided to organizations in the form of tax credit equity, typically over a two-year period. Businesses with New Hampshire tax liability support awarded projects by purchasing the awardee's credits, resulting in the nonprofit receiving a donation and the business receiving a 75 percent New Hampshire state tax credit for their contribution. The purchased credit can be applied against the Business Profits Tax, Business Enterprise Tax, or Insurance Premium Tax. The donation may also be eligible for consideration as a charitable contribution for state and federal tax purposes.

CDFA's founding legislation and foundational guidance for the Tax Credit Program can be found in New Hampshire RSA 162-L.

We understand that selling tax credits can be challenging for organizations serving New Hampshire's most vulnerable communities - hindered as they often are by geographic impediments and a lack of capacity. In 2022, CDFA will offer to sell up to 100% of that year's tax credit equity, on behalf of the recipient (only for the first year for those grantees receiving two years of credits). Applicants wishing to sell awarded tax credits, on their own, will have the opportunity to communicate this on the application.

In our continued efforts to improve access, CDFA is also offering applicants resources to hire a grant writer should they need additional capacity, language access, or other technical support to successfully submit an application.

ELIGIBILITY

Eligible applicants include community development corporations, other nonprofit organizations and municipal governments involved in community development, and employee and other types of cooperatives.

Definitions for eligible applicants are as follows:

- Community development corporation means a nonprofit corporation, organized under the laws of the state to carry out certain public purposes and with bylaws providing that it meets the requirements listed in New Hampshire RSA 162-L:1.

- Other nonprofit organizations and municipal governments involved in community development means a nonprofit organization organized under the laws of the state or a municipal government with a purpose to carry out activities related to community development, improvement, revitalization, or other consistent activities.
- Employee cooperative means a corporation in which the power to elect at least 2/3 of the corporation's directors is held by the employees and in which such elections are held on a one person-one vote basis.
- Other type of cooperative means any corporation in which the power to elect the governing body is held by the members of the corporation and in which elections are held on a one person-one vote basis. This may include cooperatives such as housing cooperatives and consumer cooperatives.

GUIDANCE

AVAILABLE FUNDING

CDFA will award up to a total of $625,000 in tax credits to the Community Economic Development Capacity Building program over two years. For the first time, Community Economic Development Capacity Building program applicants are eligible to request up to $150,000 in funding over two-years.

A portion (20%) of the Community Economic Development Capacity Building program tax credit award is set aside to support the administration of the Tax Credit Program, as well as CDFA's statewide investments, technical assistance, data collection, research, and general operations. Applicants should calculate and submit their total request based on this 80% effective award, taking the set-aside into account. For example, if your Community Economic Development Capacity Building program project needs $60,000 for implementation, the total request would be for $75,000 ($$75,000 \times .8 = $60,000$).

FUNDING PRIORITIES

The following section provides further clarification and examples of the funding priorities that are described in the Program Overview and Objectives section.

Applications for the following activities are prioritized:

- Collaborative strategies that advance a traditional infrastructure project that will address a community economic development challenge. We are particularly interested in seeing intentional collaboration to build and advance the capacity of organizations led by and serving a target population.
- Projects or collaborations that build the capacity of target populations and organizations to implement community economic development solutions and traditional infrastructure projects.
- Groups and organizations that have been historically underserved and, therefore, have a greater financial need and a reduced ability to raise these funds from other sources.

Examples of high priority Community Economic Development Capacity Building Program type projects:

- An organization or set of partners that have a community asset (for example a building, community space, piece of land, a loan, etc..) in place and need to deepen community engagement or bring in additional relationships to figure out how to engage that asset in ways that will drive the greatest benefit to target populations.
- An organization or set of partners that have an asset or are looking to acquire an asset and need to identify the right legal, financial, and governance structure to manage the asset.
- A group that is looking to establish a new leadership or governance structure for its organization or project to address a community economic development challenge.
- A well-established organization looking to deepen or build a partnership with a smaller organization so that both have the capacity to engage in a traditional infrastructure project.

While not expressly disallowed, applications for the following activities will not be given priority:

- Operating expenses, deficit-reduction or expenses already incurred.

- Pre-development expenses and project costs that are supported through other CDFA funding streams. Pre-development expenses might include architectural designs, energy audits, market studies, appraisals and other expenses that are typical of the pre-development project phase.
- Activities that support an existing/launched/proceeding/underway organizational strategy.
- Requests that are typically the responsibility of federal, state, or municipal funding sources.
- Replacement of typical revenue sources (contributions, grants or earned income, etc.).
- Capital campaign activities not explicitly tied to a specific project or program.
- Projects whose primary beneficiaries are not New Hampshire residents/individuals and/or whose primary activities are not located in or benefit New Hampshire communities.

Examples of prior investments:

CDFA has awarded tax credit funds to the following organizations which clearly illustrate the funding priorities of the program.

- City of Lebanon: CDFA funds supported the City of Lebanon to develop a business plan and explore the development of a platform to prepare for the launch of Lebanon Community Power, a community choice aggregation program. A municipal aggregation program is an innovative, forward-looking program that if developed will provide an effective and local tool for the purchase of energy.
- G.A.L.A. Community Center (Wolfeboro): CDFA funds supported the development of Makers Mill, a green makerspace and incubator, in Wolfeboro, through business planning and investments in the organization's capacity.
- Nashua Soup Kitchen: CDFA funds provided opportunities to explore innovative options for improving access to food in four underserved neighborhoods of Nashua with significant low-income populations. Specifically, the program explored new ways to distribute food to more challenged populations, including the elderly and children who might be unable to either come to the existing facility or carry enough food due to distance and transportation issues.
- Northern Forest Center (Lancaster): CDFA funds enabled the organization to increase its presence and impact within its community. Funded boots-on-the-ground approach to community economic development, engaged local businesses and leadership to create solutions specific to their needs and community.
- Plymouth Area Renewable Energy Initiative: CDFA funds furthered the development of the innovative, non-profit NH Solar Shares program. NH Solar Shares provided interested donors the opportunity to gift locally generated clean solar energy to low-income New Hampshire families needing assistance with their electric bills. The goal is to develop multiple, mid-size solar arrays using charitable donations where the value of the solar energy generated will be credited to low-income families' electric bills and to develop an energy use education plan.

An outline of CDFA's Community Economic Development Capacity Building Program application can be found in Appendix A of this document.

CDFA's Technical Assistance to Applicants

CDFA works with partners to advance new ideas, thinking, and innovation in community economic development & clean energy efforts, throughout New Hampshire. We work closely with partners during the pre-application phase to understand their needs, align those needs with our technical assistance and financing resources, and make connections with other potential sources of support, where feasible. Much of this work takes place when partners are only just beginning to explore and develop solutions to a specific community need. It is our hope that engaging CDFA in the pre-application stage of project development can help community leaders understand the technical and financial resources available, and strengthen a project's likelihood for success by addressing any potential challenges, early on.

In an effort to increase access and expand the pool of successful applicants, CDFA is offering the following support, in addition to our pre-application technical assistance:

Grant Writing Support

CDFA will provide qualifying applicants with financial resources to help prepare their applications. Please discuss your need during your pre-application meeting or see this page on Resource Hub to learn more.

Fiscally Sponsored Projects

Please review the guidance on CDFA's Resource Hub if you are planning to apply with a fiscal sponsor. Please reach out to us directly if you have questions or concerns about how to apply as a fiscally sponsored project.

EVALUATION

CDFA will review proposals for Community Economic Development Capacity Building funds based upon the goals, measurable objectives, activities, components of the proposal and organizational need. All applicants are subjected to a substantial programmatic and financial review. Among other requirements, projects must provide a public benefit and demonstrate that similar funding was not otherwise available.

The first step in the review process is to review the eligibility of the applicant. Then reviewers will complete a desk review of the application, and a comprehensive underwriting of the applicant and the project in order to evaluate the proposed project. A project is considered both on its own merits and as it compares to the other applicants in the same grant round.

Recommendations for funding will be based upon applicant's goals, measurable objectives, activities, and needs. The internal review team at CDFA assesses applicants against the program objectives and four priority areas, and provides its assessment to the Investment Review Committee, composed of select CDFA staff and non-recused Board Members. Recommendations for funding will then be made by the Investment Review Committee to CDFA's full Board of Directors. Following approval by the Board of Directors, CDFA staff will execute a contract with the successful applicants and manage the award through completion.

Community Economic Development framework

1. It starts with a team of cross-sector leaders committed to finding new ways to work together.
2. Improving outcomes for low-income residents requires their voices.
3. Teams are empowered to learn and adapt when data becomes a tool for learning and not just compliance.
4. Population-level impact and sustainability depend on changing systems.
